Valuable Safety Advice For All

Information provided by our Community Engagement Officer for Reigate & the Eastern Cluster; Bob Lamont (pictured on the left).

Epsom and Ewell has seen a number of daytime burglaries over recent weeks. These have seen the local Asian community particularly targeted where high value jewellery has been taken. We have set out below some crime prevention advice, which is valuable for all, not just those living in the Epsom and Ewell area:

- Make sure your doors and windows are in good condition and keep them locked
- Burglar alarms and lights will deter thieves
- Install low wattage dusk-to-dawn lights
- Do not leave car, door or window keys on view, or within reach of a letterbox or window
- Move valuable items away from windows and put them out of sight
- Register valuable property at www.immobilise.com or keep an inventory including description, serial number and photograph(s) of each item
- Property mark all valuable items with your post code and house number
- Do not keep large amounts of cash at home
- Make sure your home looks occupied while you are away.

If you've seen anything suspicious please contact Surrey Police on 0845 125 2222 or email via Surrey Police's website: www.surrey.police.uk If you have a serious crime, accident or another emergency to report, always dial 999. You can also telephone CRIMESTOPPERS on 0800 555 111, where your call will be free and you do not have to give your name.

Many congratulations to Canon Chris Rich for completing his abseil challenge down Guildford Cathedral! We will hopefully have a report about the abseil in the next Surrey Faith Links Project Newsletter!

The Olympics is coming to a place near you ...are you ready?

4 billion people watching globally

The numbers involved in London 2012 are truly staggering. This is the biggest sporting event ever hosted by the UK and as a result the security operation that protects it will be the largest in peacetime.

However London 2012 is a celebration of sport not of security and whilst sufficient policing will be in place, it will not always be as visible as it has been in some previous games.

I truly believe that British Policing is amongst the best in the world and we already know that the Police Service already has substantial experience in policing major events in this country.

A year out from the arrival of the Olympic torch on UK soil and our planning is progressing well. We are in a good position to deliver a safe and secure games on time and within budget! Of course meeting all the demands placed on the Police Service during 2012 will be challenging, but we are determined that day to day policing across the country will not suffer and that any disruption will be minimised.

I am particularly grateful to the Surrey Faith Links Project, for giving me space in this month's newsletter in order to inform readers as to how they may consider preparing for the arrival of the games in their area.

Whilst the games are branded London 2012 there are very few parts of the country that will not be affected to some extent by the arrival of the Olympic and Paralympic Games between 27th July and 9th September 2011.

I have put together some questions that readers may like to consider within their respective faith organisations in the coming months, together with some links that will help you answer them (these can be found on the following page).

If you have specific questions that do not appear below or have observations on the safety and security operation around the games, then please write to the faith forum or contact myself on communityrelationsteam@olympics.pnn.police.uk

The Story So Far The Lacey Theatre Company

Lacey Theatre Company

Feasting on the Word: The Story so Far

3 course supper
and play

'The Story So Far' is a multimedia theatre piece covering the whole Bible, with a close look at the life of Jesus. Poetry, original music, visuals, comedy and memorable characters collide to create an exciting and magical exposition of one of the most retold stories in our culture.

Following the success of last year's theatre supper in the Cathedral Refectory, this year we are pleased to have the Lacey Theatre Company, similarly performing during a three course supper. They say "We love telling stories, making jokes, and asking questions" so don't miss this special event where you can enjoy delicious food interspersed with drama and interaction with the cast.

Lacey Theatre Company was founded in 2004 by actor and author Rob Lacey. Now based in Brighton it is run by Elin (actor) and Joe Kelly (musician) who with other staff tour community venues telling old, sacred stories in a new, everyday way.
